Mr. A. S. Stephens has gone to Atlanta to visit friends.

This section is having a genuine spell of winter weather.

Don't forget to make your return to the County Auditor.

Very little County produce is being offered for sale just now.

The Court of General Sessions opens in Abbeville next Monday.

You have just two more weeks in which to pay your County taxes.

We are indebted to Senator Butler for valuable public documents.

Since the beginning of the New Year, business has been very dull.

Mr. Arthur Arnold, of Athens, Ga., is in the city visiting his parents.

The time for making tax returns to the City Clerk expires next Tuesday.

Read what Peoples & Burris have to say in their new advertisement.

We are needing money to meet our bills, and we hope those who owe us will call and settle as soon as possible.

The grip has a number of victims in the city. It is a mild form, however.

Mr. John T. Langston has moved from Pikes to Slaton, in this County.

Mr. R. T. Leavel, of Central, was in the city last Saturday and gave us a call.

We always keep in stock a full supply of flims, mortgages, and other blanks.

The drummers are now travelling in droves taking orders for Spring goods.

Local news is as scarce as money just now, and it is difficult to get up a newspaper.

Miss Florence Green, of Greenville, is in the city visiting her brother, Mr. Nelson R. Green.

Mr. Dennis O'Donnell has sold his business in Anderson and expects to move to Clinton.

Dr. P. A. Whitte has been in Charleston last week attending a meeting of the State Board of Health.

Col. M. P. Fribble and Dr. A. C. Strickland have been back and confined to their rooms for several days.

The law requiring a license fee of $300 to sell pistols does not take effect until the 22d of June of this year.

Mr. J. T. Minor of Macon, Ga., is now in Anderson doing business for his brother, Mr. C. S. Minor.

Mr. Wynne, the State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spent last Sunday in Anderson looking after the work here.

The Spring Term of the Court of General Sessions opens in Anderson on the second Monday in February.

Mr. E. W. Taylor is now occupying his new and beautiful dwelling house on Franklin street, near the P. M. I.

Mr. G. S. Willford has moved from this County to Bowersville, Ga. We wish him success in his new home.

The railroads are feeling the general depression of business just now, and very little freight business is being done.

Messrs. E. P. McKissick, of the News and Courier, and C. B. Smith, of the Greenville News, were in the city last week.

Mr. J. M. Sullivan is building two very neat and substantial cottages, on Hampton street, just below his own residence.

The good work continues. Mr. McKennedy is building three cottages in the eastern section of the city, near the Shoe Factory.

The City Council has granted Mr. D. E. Carline a license as Auctioneer, and he can always be found in the city ready for business.

Gov. Tillman has re-appointed Messrs. R. W. Todd and R. W. Ackley Trial Justices, the former in this city and the latter at Williamsport.

A number of our citizens will go down and view Augusta's big Carnival next week. The railroad fare is only $2.05 for the round trip.

An important meeting of Broadway Alliance will be held Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, and all of the members are urged to attend promptly.

A change has recently been made in the schedules of the passenger trains on the C. & G. R. A correct schedule is published on our fourth page.

Our young friend, E. R. Cox, of Donalds, was in the city last Monday. Next week he will move to Darlington, where he will engage in business.

To-morrow (Friday) is the birthday of the South's great hero, Robert E. Lee. It will be observed with fitting ceremonies in many places of the South.

Mr. J. S. Fowler has just returned from the markets with two car loads of very fine young mules, which he is now offering at prices to please the public.

A late invention is said to be a bulletless shirt. This is nonsense. They've been known to married men from the post-apocryphal period of Adam down.

We will esteem it a kindness if our subscribers will inform us when they desire to get their paper. It is our desire that the papers shall be delivered regularly.

Married, on Sunday, January 1, 1891, by Rev. J. N. Martin, Notary Public, at his residence, Mr. James L. Owens and Miss Zeola Bonds, all of Anderson County.

Messrs. Dillingham expected two cars of fine mules Monday. They did not come by some misconnection in Railroads, and they will be in to-morrow or Monday.

We are indebted to Rev. H. F. Christensen, Secretary, for a copy of the minutes of the annual session of the South Carolina Conference recently held in Anderson.

Maj. J. N. Vandiver has gone to Kentucky to purchase a fine drove of mules and horses for the Western Bleckley Company. He may be absent about ten days.

We are glad to learn that Mr. E. F. Reed, of Varennes Township, who has been quite sick for several weeks, is improving, and hope he will soon be out again.

As we go to press Wednesday afternoon, Prof. W. J. Ligon, who has been a help and a joy to several of our friends by growing worse, and his death is expected at any hour.

Persons should always remember that we never pay any attention to communications sent to the Intelligencer for publication unless they are signed by the true name of the writer.

The mule market has opened right lively, and the local dealers are doing a good business. When you want to buy a horse or mule, or anything else, at a low price, come to Anderson.

A woman never forgets the halo of romance which clings around her first love, and she never forgets the halo of romance and memory of what she suffered when she wedded with his first cigar.

We are indebted to Messrs. Alex. Zachary & Son, of Jackson County, N. C., for some of their Dunscombe cabbage seed. Mr. Zachary sells a great many of his seed through our section.

Officer McKinney is now engaged in taking the census of the city, by order of the City Council. By doing this several hundred dollars will be added to the city treasury in the way of poll taxes.

Married, on Sunday, January 4, 1891, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. J. M. Allen, Mr. W. W. Walker and Miss Laura, eldest daughter of Mr. Wm. H. Wilson, all of Anderson County.

It is strange how some people persist in sitting in the aisle end of the pew at Church. It makes it very unpleasant for anyone to have a third person sitting in the aisle, and it is a strange custom, and very embarrassing for anyone to sit and stand in the aisle for another to pass. It is a strange custom, and we do not understand, but we have had to put up with his unpleasantness a lot of times.

Mr. John H. Clarke left Anderson Monday morning for New York, whether he goes to spend ten days in posting himself in all of the new styles and receiving further instructions in the tailor's art, or to make a fortune, is a matter which is not for the benefit of his creditors. His liabilities are estimated at $50,000, while his assets will not reach this amount by a large sum.

Mr. M. E. Kay, of the Storeville section, has purchased a place near Abbeville, C. H., and has moved down there. Mr. Kay is an upright young man, and we hope he will meet with success in his new home.

Married, on Wednesday evening, January 7, 1891, at the residence of Mr. J. D. Welch, Seneca, S. C., by Rev. H. B. Fant, Mr. W. H. Phillips, of Oconee County, and Miss Lodges McAlister, of Anderson County, H. B. Fant, the officiating minister.

The Trustees of Garvin Township will meet at Lebanon School House on the 19th Saturday in each month at 2 o'clock p. m. Messrs. John G. Duckworth, T. T. Wakefield and A. W. Dickens are the Trustees.

The Pickens Publishing Company has purchased the Bayley Messenger and moved the plant to Pickens C. H., where it is being published under the name of The People's Journal. T. C. Robinson, Esq., is the editor.

Messrs. C. P. Jones & Co. have in their new finished taking stock, and in their new advertisement this week they tell the many readers of the INTELLIGENCER that big business is being done, and they are now offering to the trade.

The Anderson Building and Loan Association will bring its business to a close next month, and it is very probable that another Association will be organized at once. The Association has done good in Anderson.

Miss Lottie Crosby, of this city, is now in charge of the Hopewell School, which she opened on the 4th inst. with thirty-five pupils enrolled. The roll continues to increase, and she will soon have one of the largest schools in the County.

Mr. Samuel O. Durham, of Brushy Creek, who has been adjudged a lunatic, and last Monday Sheriff Bolt carried him to the Asylum in Columbia. Mr. Durham was recognized as being sane, and it is hoped his insanity will prove only temporary.

This (Wednesday) evening Rev. R. H. Smith will deliver his interesting lecture in the Opera House for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. We hope he will be greeted by a large audience. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock, instead of 8:30, as announced on bills.

Mr. George Young, of Marietta, Texas, who has been visiting relatives in this County, left Anderson last Tuesday for his home. He was accompanied by his wife, Mr. J. E. Young and wife and Mr. Tobie Bowen, who will take Texas home in the future.

The devotional exercises of the Y. M. C. A. in the Opera House next Sunday afternoon will be conducted by Mr. C. S. Sullivan. The exercises will be in the discharge of duty. Acts 20, 18 to 36; Dan. 6, 10. Every young man in the city is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Miss Mattie Smith, who has been in charge of Messrs. F. Jones & Co.'s dress-making department the past season, has returned to her home in Baltimore to spend a few weeks in rest and recreation. She will return to Anderson thoroughly posted in the new styles for the Spring season.

Some moralist and economist puts it this way: From a bushel of corn the distiller gets four gallons of whiskey, which will retail at $16. The Government gets $3.50, the farmer gets 40 cents, the railroad gets $1, the manufacturer gets $4, the retailer gets $7 and the consumer gets drunk.

Miss Sharpe, of Cleveland, Ohio, will give an exhibition of Embroideries and Fancy work generally, on the 15th inst. at Mr. C. A. Reed's Sewing Machine rooms on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 15th, 16th and 17th. The public generally are invited to attend.

Hartwell Sum. "Mr. Thos. Shearer, of Anderson County, S. C., attended the opening of the school, and increased the roll by entering two of his lovely daughters. Mr. Shearer is one of Anderson County's solid good citizens, and his patronage to our school is very much appreciated."

Wallachs Courier: "Miss Kate Holman has been elected as an assistant teacher in the Townville High School. She has accepted and left on Monday for town. Miss Kate is a capable and experienced teacher, and Townville is to be congratulated on securing her services in its school room."

The Yorkville Enquirer has risen from the ashes of disaster, and is again on an exchange table, looking as bright and neat as ever. In the fire which swept away the plant of the paper, Capt. Grish was a heavy loser. We hope he will have a prosperous year, and that he will never have another misfortune.

The INTELLIGENCER was pleased to have a call from John K. Hood, Esq., of Due West, last Tuesday. Mr. Hood, who is a son of Prof. Hood, of Franklin College, has recently been admitted to the bar, and is in Anderson prospecting with a view of locating here to practice law. He is a worthy, excellent young man, and we would be glad to have him settle in our growing city.

The Sylvester Bleckley Company, which was recently incorporated, has organized by electing the following officers: President, J. H. VonHasseln; Directors, J. H. VonHasseln, J. T. Pearson, J. H. VonHasseln. We invite your attention to the Company's advertisement, which appears elsewhere.

Our young friends, Will. Tucker and A. T. Newell, two of Anderson County's popular and energetic young farmers, recently visited friends in Spartanburg. They were accompanied by a large number of pleasant dance, and other courtesies were shown them. The young gentlemen were accompanied by a large number of pleasant dance, and other courtesies were shown them.

Fifty more dwelling houses in Anderson, it is said, would find rent tenants, and we have no doubt that the building of 1891 will be sufficient to meet the demand. We hope so. Anderson has and is progressing steadily, and we believe the old town will make greater strides this year than ever before. Let us have more manufacturing enterprises.

An exchange says: "Dealers in liquors and wine should take note of the fact that the law in regard to special taxes on these articles, had been changed by a recent Act of Congress so as to make the tax year begin the same time as the fiscal year, viz: July 1st and end June 30th. Returns will, therefore, have to be made on May 1st for the two months ending the year 30th, and again on July 1st for the year ending June 30th, 1892."

There is now not the slightest doubt, according to the physicians, that the grip has assumed an epidemic form throughout the country. The strange and unusual attack of dozens of people with almost the same symptoms, bears out this belief, and it is not a bit more strange than the attack of last February, if it is not a bit more comfortable. The druggists are doing a thriving business in consequence of the epidemic.

Last Sunday night Messrs. Edwards B. Murray and James L. Tribble were ordained Deacons in the Baptist Church of this city. They are young men of good Christian characters, both lawyers, and well qualified to fill the office of Deacons. Messrs. Edwards B. Murray and James L. Tribble are lawyers, which speaks well for the Anderson bar. Rev. Dr. Bailey, H. B. Fant and R. H. Smith, composed the Presbytery for ordination.

Madame Fry's Concert Company, which will appear in the Opera House next Saturday night, will, from present indications, be greeted by a large audience. Tickets are now on sale at Hill Bros', and we advise you to go and secure your seat at once. The Company's program is very rich, and interesting, and when such trouper visit us we should give them a liberal patronage. Wherever the Company has appeared it has more than pleased its audiences.

Southern Christian Advocate: "Rev. J. W. Ewer, District Minister of the First Baptist Church of Orangeburg District, spent a day in Columbia recently. He is delighted with his charge and the elegant reception given him by the kind and hospitable people of Orangeburg. He did not find our native County, Orangeburg, the garden spot of the South, as it is called, but a place of the clearest and best, its women the handsomest, and its babies the sweetest and prettiest. He said that he had never seen a County, that's all! A man with such poor taste ought to be made to 'move on.' But District Ministers are good fellows, and we have no doubt will soon be as enthusiastic over Orangeburg as was his predecessor, Bro. Clyde."

It is, in some respect, a pleasant episode to have a book agent break in on you suddenly when you are deeply engaged in an important matter. It is rather like a flash of lightning striking a dead tree, it gives new life for a moment--makes a flurry. He comes in with such a rush, throws out the literature in such a basic, and multiplies reasons why you should buy in such numbers. The book agent may be a necessary evil after all.

Read the appeal from School Commissioners. Warfare is waged in the columns for more comfortable school houses. No community should be without a good school house. The school is the heart of the community, and the appeal should be heeded. In many localities there are now just such. There are no other places where the school houses do not speak very well for the patrons. These houses should be built and furnished by the patrons without taking the public school funds. Read the appeal and heed it.

The News and Courier, of last Friday, says: "Mr. J. F. Norris has received a letter from his brother, Mr. D. K. Norris, at Pendleton. He says that the rumor that he was stricken with paralysis is not true. The cause of his prostration was a dyspeptic complaint, but he is now better. In closing his communication to his brother he says: 'I had just returned from Columbia in very bad health, and by 1 o'clock that night was very badly off. I hope to regain health with a return of appetite.' We join Capt. Norris' friends in wishing him a speedy recovery."

It is a curious fact that there is only one weekly German illustrated newspaper in the United States. It is the German edition of the famous Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, and it is not surprising that it has a very large circulation. It is sent three months for $1, the same as Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, and an annual subscription of $1 entitles the subscriber to a magnificent fac-simile of the "Angels" in eight colors; a work of art worthy of a place in any one's parlor. Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper is full of beautiful pictures. Get it at your newsdealer's for ten cents.

Mrs. Saphrony Harper, wife of Mr. Wm. Harper, of Garvin Township died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Manuel Horton, in this city, last Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Harper had been in feeble health for some time, and had come to the city to be treated by a physician. She was about 70 years of age, and a consistent member of the Baptist Church. Her remains were interred in the Lebanon Churchyard on Saturday. The husband and two sons and three daughters left to cherish her memory have many sympathizers in their bereavement.

Mrs. E. F. Alewine, wife of Mr. John D. Alewine, died at her home near Axtell, in Abbeville County, last Monday night, and the announcement of her death will be heard with sorrow throughout the lower section of this County, where she was well known. Mrs. Alewine had been in feeble health for a long time, but her illness was not considered serious until about two weeks ago. She was about 50 years of age, and had spent her life in such industry that she was fully prepared to meet the summons of death. In her early life she joined the Baptist Church, and was a most earnest, active member. She will be greatly missed in her neighborhood, and her memory will long be cherished by her many friends. She leaves a husband and six sons and one daughter to mourn her death. On Wednesday the remains were interred in the First Creek Churchyard, Rev. R. D. Hawkins conducting the funeral services.

Maj. John R. Williams died at his home in Central last Saturday morning, after a short illness with pneumonia. Maj. Williams was a son of Jasper Williams, and was born and reared in Anderson County, where he has a host of friends and relatives who regret exceedingly to hear of his death. For several years he was engaged in the drug business in this city with Dr. P. A. Whitte, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. At the commencement of the war Maj. Williams, though quite a youth, entered the service of his country in Co. O, 9th Regiment, and was soon elected a Lieutenant. His old comrades say that the Regiment did not have a more gallant or daring soldier than he. Maj. Williams lived a consistent Christian life, and had been a deacon in the Baptist church for a number of years. His remains were interred at Easley last Sunday afternoon. A devoted wife and three little children are left to mourn his death.

The County Examining Board of Pensions will meet next Monday for the purpose of considering applications for pensions, as provided for by the laws of South Carolina. There were no changes in the Pension Board, and the County Board, and the County Boards are expected to follow the same rules governing them the previous year. In a circular letter issued to the Board, the Comptroller-General says: "When all applications shall have been acted upon, then the County Examining Board of Pensions and the Board of Pension Commissioners elected by the survivors of the respective Counties, shall meet together and examine the pension roll for such County, and select therefrom such number of the most needy applicants as will be sufficient to consume the appropriation of such County, allowing to each applicant so selected the sum of three dollars per month from the appropriation. In selecting such applicants for pension the said Board shall have regard to the physical and financial means of such applicants, and also to the financial condition of the near relatives of the several applicants, and shall, in every instance, select the most needy and needy applicants for aid that can be found upon the pension roll."

Capt. Martin Stricken With Paralysis. The readers of the INTELLIGENCER will read with sorrow this announcement. Last Tuesday afternoon, during the meeting of the Directors of the Farmers' and Merchants Bank, in the Bank building, in this city, Capt. Thos. W. Martin, of Broadway Township, was stricken with paralysis. The stroke came on gradually, and Capt. Martin, knowing that he was being paralyzed, continued to set on such matters as came up for consideration, voting by proxy even after he was unable to sit in his chair. His friends gathered about him, but they were unable to do anything to help him. He was very quiet and calm until every faculty refused to act.

Capt. Martin was one of Anderson County's most worthy and respected citizens, enjoying the perfect respect and confidence of all who knew him. Most honorable and upright in all relations of life, conscientious and faithful in the discharge of every duty, he was a brave and progressive in his ideas, he had gathered about him a large circle of friends, who were proud to call him a friend. He was a man of great energy and high character, and his life was a model of the good citizen.

Capt. Martin was born in this County in 1821, and he spent his entire life here. He was a very brave and hearty man, being full of energy and life, always cheerful and full of spirit. He served in the late war in Hampton's Legion, being a man full of valor.

May 1st for the two months ending the year 30th, and again on July 1st for the year ending June 30th, 1892."

Since the above was written and put in type, Capt. Martin died on Wednesday, at 12 o'clock, twenty-four hours from the time he was stricken. He never regained consciousness. His remains will be interred to-day (Thursday) at 11 o'clock a. m., at the old Rice family burying ground. The grietick family have many sympathizers in their bereavement.

Cedar Grove. The health of our section is very good. Christmas passed off very quietly, and everybody, it seems, has gone to work with a determination to make 1891 a successful year.

Miss R. J. McKinnich has a large school. She has about seventy scholars enrolled, and if anybody can manage or control that number, she certainly can.

When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

An Earnest Appeal.
Mr. Editor: I feel constrained, by the complaints that come to me from various sources, to make an earnest appeal to the people of this County in behalf of the schools. Some may say this is unnecessary, but others will know the absolute necessity for the relief I ask for.

Some of our school houses are not comfortable, not even sufficiently so to prevent the teachers and pupils from suffering from cold during the severe weather. This ought not to be. The parents should provide suitable school houses, and make them close enough to be kept warm. They should also supply the schools with stoves or fire places, and plenty of wood. I make this appeal to you all in behalf of the teachers and children. In some instances, while visiting the schools, I find the children during the recitation hours with shawls and other wraps on, and I even notice occasionally a teacher wearing a cloak while at work. This ought not to be. In the name of humanity, and for the health and comfort of your children, I beg you to see after this matter at once. Do not look to or depend on the public school fund for pay for it either; let that money go for tuition, and you furnish the other aids. I beg the parents of each school to meet next Saturday at the school house and make whatever repairs that are necessary, or arrange to have them made. I do not wonder, and am not surprised that children do not want to go to school to suffer. And it keeps the teacher all the time in an ill mood. Don't take the public funds for this; do the work yourselves, or pay for it from your pockets, and let the children have the public money.

I make this earnest appeal, hoping that it will be promptly heeded, and that the children will be cared for.

Earnestly and respectfully,
C. WARDLAW, School Com.

[For the Intelligencer.]
THE CITY OF THE DEAD.

The dead leaves whispered as I passed, And their rustling seemed to say, That other feet o'er them had trod, That now in the church-yard lay.

The wind moaned through the leafless trees, Bearing its tale of love or woe, To those who were joyous with life and light, And a requiem for those lying low.

The tall grass waved in the autumn breeze, And sighed as to the earth it was bent, A chord touched the golden sun-barred sky, That a melancholy radiance lent.

I too, sighed, as name after name, On each mound should rose high, I pondered what that bosom had stirred, Ere that dread summons came to die.

I first stopped by a monument, With wreaths of laurel and oak, Which told of deeds that make men great, And how honor's crown was won.

Then I turned me to a woman's grave, Where violets with green lay entwined, I dropped a tear for the mother's grief, Where her baby I knew was buried.

And just where the green trees cast their shade, A tiny grave white marked was seen, The gray misty air was hazy and dim, But shadows had rolled between.

Yet onward I passed, forgetting not, That this was sacred ground, Treasuring softly, and with lowered tone, Paid tribute to each grass-grown mound.

Then, in a reverie profound, I gazed long upon the earth, Man's glory ends here in the tomb, And sorrows his from birth.

A calm that was holy came over my soul, Whispering sweet and low, this is sleep, Give tender thought, thy heart's best gift, For the harvest which death must reap.

Then, in communion with my heart, A lesson engrained by years was given, All this told of the life of man, And yet more was known in Heaven.

The school at Shady Grove opened up well the 5th inst. with Miss S. J. McLean at the helm. We speak for Miss McLean a liberal patronage from the public.

Miss Sadie McAdams left recently for Abbeville County, where she will attend school.

Rev. W. H. King will preach at Andersonville Church the 3rd Sunday at 11 o'clock. The members are requested to attend promptly.

We wish for the many readers of the INTELLIGENCER, and the Editor and all his staff, a happy New Year. B. J.

Good News From Calhoun Falls.
On Thursday last Gen. W. W. Humphreys, Messrs. R. E. McCully, T. F. Fribble O. Geisberg and Maj. E. F. McKissick left Anderson on the early morning train on the P. R. & W. C. R. R. to meet Mr. Pat. Calhoun at Calhoun Falls, for the purpose of perfecting arrangements with both Railroad Companies pertaining to the union passenger and freight depot. On the arrival of the special train from Augusta, Mr. Pat. Calhoun invited the gentlemen from Anderson to his private car, where all the parties were introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Calhoun, of Abbeville, S. C., Cecil Gabbert, General Manager of the Georgia Central System, Col. Averil, Superintendent Port Royal & Western Canal Railroad, Capt. Delson, Superintendent Georgia, Carolina & Northern Railroad. After looking the ground over carefully, it was decided by the several Railroad representatives to erect a handsome and modern Union Passenger Depot, with restaurant, for the convenience of the travelling public, and give Calhoun Falls the benefit of running four trains daily on the G. C. & N. R., and the P. R. & W. C. R. R., making connections on both roads.

Capt. Calhoun promised to run his trains to Calhoun Falls as soon as suitable accommodations can be procured to shelter train hands, and now several parties are constructing the building of such, and for other purposes at once.

MASTER'S SALE.
STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.
ANDERSON COUNTY.
In the Court of Common Pleas.
John McCall and James T. McCall, against Mary C. McCall, Sarah McCall and others.

In obedience to the Judgment of the Court made by Hon. John H. High Sheriff on the 19th day of January, 1891, I will sell at Anderson County Court House, S. C., on Saturday, February 1, 1891, the Land described in the pleadings as the Real Estate of Mrs. Rachel McCall, deceased, viz: A certain lot of land, situate in Broadway Township, Anderson County, S. C., adjoining lands of Messrs. W. Norris, W. A. McCall, deceased, and others, containing seven hundred and twenty-two acres, more or less, sold in equity matter. Tracts as may be deemed most advantageous to the parties in interest.

Terms of Sale--One-third cash, balance in one year, with interest from day of sale, secured by bond of the purchaser, and mortgage of the premises, with the privilege of anticipating payment on day of sale. If purchaser fails to comply with terms of sale the premises will be sold at risk. If the purchaser pays extra for papers, he will be paid for same.

UNIVERSAL LINIMENT
For Man or Beast.
Read what Mr. Keys Says.
ANDERSON, S. C., April 14, 1890.
MESSRS. ORR & SLOAN:
GENTLEMEN: Please send me six more bottles of your Universal Liniment. I have used it for Croup, Rheumatism, and various other things. I had a rising on my knee that the Doctors said would have to be lanced, and I cured it in a short time with your Liniment. I think it is the best family Liniment that I have ever seen, and I always keep it on hand.
